Conclusion

Conclusion In conclusion we can say that in order to increase sales and attractiveness the site needs to update drugs list, make site functionality more user-friendly. There should be established customer oriented services. For example, in order to increase attractiveness it is necessary to develop mymedicstar.com coupon system or MyMedicStar.com discount policy. Such system as mymedicstar.com coupon attracts not only local customers but also buyers from neighborhood countries. Customer support service should be available 24/7, which proves desire and ability of the company to help customers and improves its rating in the public perception.
